manufacturing enterprises in the South, It is an especial source of gratification bitherto anknown south of manufactories hitherto unknown south of Mason and Dixon's line. An inspection of the houses of Mesare. C. P. Stokes & Co., Nos. 7 and b Fourteenth street, yesterday, revealed the successful establishment of a straw-hat manufactory, where that mecessary article of daily wearing appared is being fashioned into becoming styles for next season. This is said to be the first introduction of this industry in the South, and Hustings Court.—Judge French, of this court, is expected to return to the city during the present week, at the end of which time the repairs to the court-room will have been completed. On next Monday the Sepbeen completed. On next Monday the September term of the court will commence. There are several oriminal cases on the docket, involving, however, no great amount of moral turpitude. On the other hand, the array of so-called civil cases is formidable enough. Manchester is blessed with a small array of legal limbs; so there exists no likelihood that the interests of cither plaintiff or defendant in all this litigation will suffer for the want of proper representation.

Police Court.—Several citizens, summored before the presiding functionary of this court yesterday for ordinance wiolations, were admonished and let off. Citizen Richard A. Toney, straigned for creating a disturbance, having turbulent features and unamiable accessories, was fixed $2.50 and put under bonds to keep the peace.

A Youthful Father of Twins.

Frank Farrington, of Greenpoint, N. J., aged seventeen, less than a year ago was clandestinely married to Miss Sus e White at the Church of the Evangel. He was too timid to ask the minister to marry them, and his sweetheart made the request in a note. They each went to their respective homes, and the marriage was only discovered by the mother of the boy finding a note in his pocket. He was overcome by the discovery, and between his sobs said that Miss White made him marry her. The clandestine meetings of the couple were broken up by Mrs. Farrington, who was opposed to the match, and the young man suddenly went away. He is now in Califorma. Twins have just been born to him.
